

FORMER NEWSBOY OF THE TRIBUNE HERE IN VAUDEVILLE ACT

Appearing at the Majestic in vaudeville this week is sorta like a homecoming for Dave Dillon, of the musical act of Dillon and Milton. For Dave is, or used to be, a La Crosse boy. He used to run around with the gang at the Washington school and carry papers for the old Tribune—and when he's not busy at the theater this week he's looking up old friends and tramping all over town to see his old haunts.

"It's good to come back," said Dave, a reporter in his dressing room. "I've been nine years since I left. I was a kid of fourteen when the boys moved to Chicago. Maybe some of the people I know will remember that I was taking piano lessons—well, that's how

I came to go on the stage. The kids used to like to have me play at the school in Chicago and I found out that I had a bit of voice after I got a little older. So I moved on to New York and met some vaudeville people, and for the last five years I've been in vaudeville. Been on the Keith circuit, playing the big houses east.

"This act is just a new one. Miss Milton and I have only played three dates with it. But it's getting into shape, and people seem to like it."

It is a pretty act, indeed. Mr. Dillon and Miss Milton have dressed it very elaborately, as to stage setting and costumes, and with Dave at the piano to make the strings talk and Miss Milton to look attractive their sweet harmony singing "goes big."

It is proverbial that in his own town an actor is never at his best, but Dillon and Milton are getting most of the applause at the Majestic this week.

Why It Costs You Too Much To Live

The trend of living costs, as the Baltimore Sun observes, "is the most important issue in the average household of America to-day." When therefore this trend is upward, especially in food-stuffs, as during the past few weeks, father and mother naturally wonder a bit anxiously if this upward trend indicates the end of price reductions in many lines and the beginning of a new era of increasing costs. If prosperity is waiting for prices to come down where people can buy, then the reverse movement has a meaning to every one—banker, merchant, or toiler—and if the toiler happens to be among the millions of unemployed, his interest in this subject is apt to be especially acute. Reasons for the recent advance, from profiteers to short crops, come from all sides. The 70-per cent. increase in the price of cotton, thus giving Southern farmers more money to spend, is also advanced as a reason by Wallace's Farmer (Des Moines). "Labor costs, coal costs, high interest rates, and high freight rates"—each has contributed to the rise in food costs, maintains the Memphis Commercial Appeal, which further declares that "war profiteers are seizing upon a natural demand to advance prices."

A careful examination of the editorial pages of newspapers in all parts of the United States has been made by The Literary Digest, with a view toward seeking the causes of high living costs, the tendencies for a rise or drop in them, and the remedies suggested for the relief of the public.

In the leading article of The Literary Digest this week, October 8th, the result of this examination is presented, and it makes enlightening reading, indeed.

Alumni Rooters

THERE is a lot of sound reason behind the high school effort to get the alumni out in a body to the football game Saturday. And not all of it has to do with the desirability of enthusiastic support in urging the eleven to success. For while it is right that the team should be cheered, and one covets victory for the school on the athletic field, football is not the end and aim of the high school, and creating star athletes is only a fraction of its duty in following the scholastic ideal of sound minds in sound bodies. A football game is perhaps the best way of reminding the alumni of the relation that should exist between them and the school, because it has great dramatic and spectacular value. But just as football is only a part of high school life, so rooting for the team is only a part of the interest which the old grads ought to display in the school.

For one thing, as citizens who realize the importance of education, the alumni have the obligation of setting an example to their sons and daughters in the importance which they place upon the high school in their lives. If the school means something to Dad—enough to evoke a lively interest in its events—it will mean more to the young folks in whose life school is the daily job. If Dad regards his high school in differently, indifference on the part of his sons and daughters is the normal result. Dad may be busy; but if he stops to think probably he will regard the importance of his youngsters having a thorough interest in education as among the most vital of his duties. Education is to make or break them in dealing with life, and the more seriously they take the school the more value they are likely to get from its ministrations.

Football is really important, because football creates and strengthens school loyalty. The spirit which football arouses extends to the class room; a big game is an event which illuminates to the students the importance of the school and of being a part of it. The more importance the community attaches to the event, the more will the students appreciate the value of the school. The alumni, many of whom have made athletic and scholastic records that are part of the school's hero tradition, can do more than anyone to impress the adult importance of the high school upon the students because they are individually known and respected. The youngsters will accept their conclusions because they can appraise their authority.

So one hopes that in the section of the grand stand at Saturday's game—and other games this fall—there will be a big crowd of older men and women who know the yells and songs and how to voice them most effectively. There's no doubt the old grads will enjoy it, for harking back to kid days is always a delight. And if the next day the vocal chords are somewhat stiff, we predict that most of the alumni section will regard it as having been a small enough price to pay for the occasion.

Opposites

WHY do short women prefer to marry tall men? This question is debated solemnly and in long scientific words at the second international congress of eugenics, meeting in New York. The answer is: Because nature is constantly trying to even things up—maintain an average or normal balance. Thus, in a big gathering, folks instinctively pair off like this: Little women with big men, little men with big women, fat folks with thin, brunettes with blonds, hot-tempered people with those of gentle disposition. Usually we are not conscious of our short-comings until we see them in some one else. Our subconscious minds, however, are not as easily fooled as our conscious minds. The subconscious recognizes faults, admits them and admires those who lack the faults.

And what if you haven't any faults? Then you may find yourself unconsciously drawn to those who have. Tall men love to read about Jesse James and Napoleon. Many women who toe the mark strictly in life are thrilled by the vampires and villains of the movies.

If we were all alike, this would be a dull and monotonous world. It would be like living with a thousand reflections of yourself in a mystic maze of mirrors. Conversation that is interesting and association that causes the glow of good-fellowship are made possible only because no two people are identically alike. We meet and unconsciously compare ourselves with others as we mingle and talk. So a dull civilization of bricks, paint, steel and tin cans is made interesting by Mother Nature.

If tall men married tall women and fat men married fat women, as a pronounced human tendency, the world might soon become peopled with giants and monstrosities. If good dispositions married only good dispositions, and vile tempers married only vile tempers, the earth soon would have two distinct types—saints and devils. They'd soon war. Nature, desiring to keep a certain balance, to preserve a certain normal level, makes us attracted to our opposites, particularly in that oldest human institution, marriage.

Off to the Moon

ALL aboard for the moon! Prof. Robert H. Goddard of Clark University announces that a rich man has furnished "the necessary" and that the Goddard Rocket, sensation among scientists, will be fired from the earth to the moon next spring. Who will travel inside the rocket? "I have twenty applications," says Goddard. "All of them are adventurers, rather than scientists." Naturally!

Jules Verne, in 1870, published "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." It was considered the wild dream of a visionary. In reality, it was an accurate prophecy of the modern submarine. In 1865, Verne published "A Trip to the Moon." Will it, also, prove to be an accurate prophecy? The Goddard Rocket will tell. In Verne's book, the men who were rushing on through space in a shell, bound moonward passed out of the earth's sphere of gravitation. They dropped a dog out. The dog didn't fall. It began revolving in space, around the shell, a satellite, just as the moon revolves around the earth. That raises this important scientific question! Will the Goddard Rocket reach the point where the earth's gravitational field meets that of the moon, and pause there, suspended in space? That would be annoying to the man inside the rocket.

Man unquestionably will send huge rockets to the moon. If Goddard fails, other scientists will carry the work on to perfection. Unquestionably, too, dare-devils will travel inside the rockets. There's always some one that will try anything. What of the mentality of such an adventurer? Crazy? Why so? The rocket passenger in thirty seconds would live more than you and I live in thirty years. Then, too, he would be a martyr to a noble cause. We of today live on the threshold of an age of scientific magic. What lies beyond can be imagined only by men like Goddard, with his moon rocket, or Marconi with his message from Mars.

Having conquered the earth, man will fly out among the stars and conquer space. Berlin, London, Tokyo, Washington, Wall Street and Paris will cease to be the big sources of news. Headlines will feature dispatches from the Sun, Jupiter, Moon, Mars or "Somewhere in the Milky Way." Sadi Lecoq, Frenchman, has just traveled nearly three and a half miles a minute in an airplane. At that rate, as soon as science learns how to counteract gravity, we could fly to the moon in forty days. Electricity, sent by wireless, will be the motive power.

Pity you cannot live another 100 years, to see the scientific marvels of the future.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Hugh Robinson, most talked-of aviator in the world today.

Swirling and scurrying with an ever increasing roar and volume carrying the debris of wrecked buildings on a cross, the flood that descended on the town of Black River Falls yesterday lifted frame buildings from their foundations and undermined others of brick and stone until they toppled into the seething waters, while the rain drenched crowds stood in miserable groups on the high lands watching the ruin of their beautiful little city.

Dr. and Mrs. Collieran have returned from a four months' trip through the west. They visited Alaska and went through southern California, Grand Canyon, the Yosemite and many other places of interest in Washington and Oregon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A furnace heating system is being installed in the Norwegian Lutheran church on North Berlin street.

The Kuhn Sash and Door company has bought three lots from Mrs. Florence T. Losey for $10,000. The property adjoins the factory on the north and extends as far as Mount Vernon street.

The ordinance passed by the common council last summer suspending tolls on the wagon bridge on the Sabbath from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. expired last Sunday and tolls will again be collected next Sunday.

Otto Mueller of the city engineering department, who has been engaged lately in drawing plans for sidewalk grades says that for every plank walk laid there are ninety-nine tile walks put down. He predicts that soon the tile walks will supplant the plank ones in all parts of the city.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

W. L. Crosby today bought sixty acres of land near Grand Crossing in North La Crosse for the sum of $18,000 from P. B. Hagan, a St. Paul land agent.

A man at Midway is buying potatoes for twenty cents a bushel and shipping them to Chicago.

Dr. Orford Snider returned today from Chicago where he attended the unveiling of Grant monument.

Among other La Crosse people he met there were Rev. W. D. Thomas and Dr. and Mrs. A. Maurer.

Prospects are good for a very busy season at the abattoir in Medary, east of the city. From three to five carloads of sheep and hogs a day are being received there. The people of Medary want a postoffice and have sent a petition to Washington for one. As it is now all mail for this village comes to La Crosse.

TOO EASY

Betty Clark's red lips parted and a merry laugh peeped from her throat. "Excuse me for laughing, Jerry, but it's really funny, Jerry," she exclaimed, looking at a proposal of marriage. "Can you imagine it? But it's true. I heard it with my own ears. Oh, dear!"

And again Betty laughed while Jerry looked grim and crestfallen. "What's so funny about it," he growled. "Haven't I known you long enough, Betty? Haven't we lived next door to each other all our lives? Who's not a better right to propose to you than I?"

She became more solemn, although traces of a smile remained on her attractive, rather pert countenance. "Why, it's so foolish, Jerry. Think of you, Jerry looking out for a wife; you who never did a day's work in your life, who have no responsibilities, Jerry, you're not the kind a girl wants to marry—at least, not my kind of girl. You're too easy, for one thing. Most girls like to be teased, though they won't admit it. Can you picture yourself making me do something? No, of course you can't. At least, I can't and if I could I might picture myself marrying you. I'm fond of you, I admit, but I can't take your proposals seriously, because I can't take you seriously. You don't yourself, so how can I? No, Jerry, forget it. It can never be."

Jerry picked up his tennis racket and walked slowly away, scowling fiercely at Betty's big rooster resting near the porch of her home. He was always beaten—at everything he undertook. When he tried to take Betty to Mrs. Longworth's ball he was beaten by Henry Twine, who had a more commanding way. This afternoon he was beaten by Betty herself on the tennis court, and now he was beaten for sure in the game of love. He went to his room, banged his racket into a closet and flung himself sullenly on the bed.

He was discouraged, and at the same time he was desperate. He thought of hiring a gang of thugs to kidnap Betty, just so he could rescue her and be a hero. His brain began to buzz with other wild schemes, all of which he abandoned. He remained at his frenzied conjecturing by arriving at the determination to get a job and go to work and prove himself worthy. He had in mind no particular job; the first one that happened along would satisfy.

Down into the city went Jerry. Leaving his car in a garage, he started out job hunting, wondering rather aimlessly. He happened by a police station at a time when a file of blue-coats was coming out, and it made him stop and think.

"That's a good chance," he told himself. "Why not be a policeman? Perhaps it would make me more commanding. It's worth a trial anyway."

Into the police station he went, asked the captain in charge and asked for a job.

The captain smiled rather perplexedly at the good-looking, well-dressed, rather large youth.

"A job, eh? Well, we need, men. Can you manage a motorcycle?"

Jerry nodded vigorously. A motorcycle was one of the few things he ever had been able to manage.

"Well, we'll give you a trial," Jerry went through the formalities necessary to become a guardian of the law. He was equipped with a four-cylinder racing motorcycle, and in due course of time was sent out to Granddall park to patrol the boulevards in quest of speeders. He felt misgivings plenty, but his nice blue suit imparted a certain degree of confidence.

He stood for some time in the shade of a big tree and meditated. While he stood there at least three big machines whizzed by, going at least forty miles an hour, and he was supposed to catch these demons. Well, he couldn't perform his duty by standing there, so he started the engine of his motorcycle, mounted, let in the clutch and started down the boulevard.

The job was not exactly to his liking in order to make arrests he would have to appear stern, even pugnacious. And that went against Jerry's grain.

As he neared a curve in the drive he heard a car coming with the cut-out open. He knew it was a speeder by the sound. He supposed he would have to make an arrest, and yet he dreaded it.

Around the corner came the auto and plunged straight at him. He swerved his cycle and the speeding machine missed him by an inch. Then Jerry became angry, probably for the first time in his life. If he hadn't been quick he would have been a dead policeman now.

He turned about and gave chase. The motor car was far along the boulevard now, but Jerry opened the throttle and began to gain. Presently he could see that he was holding his own, and his speedometer registered forty-five miles an hour. He increased the speed to fifty, then fifty-five and finally sixty. It was a fast automobile, but the motorcycle was faster, and in a short time Jerry came up alongside the speeder.

Success

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

RECENTLY I heard one man ask another, "How do you account for Worthington's success?"

The other man answered, "The only way I know of accounting for it is that he has the goods."

That had not seemed to occur to the man who asked the question. He seemed to be one of the kind who assumed that if any man attains to a success greater than his own, it is because he inherited wealth, or married the daughter of his employer, or had a pull with some one higher up.

That seems to me a bad habit. It is not good for a man to get to thinking that the success of other men is a sham.

It is a coward's consolation for one's own failures.

It is better to assume that other men have won their success honestly, or that if they have not won it in that way they are not likely to hold it, and then to resolve to win success.

A girl was driving, laughing, but she caught a glimpse of blue out of the side of her eye and the expression changed.

"Stop!" roared the peaceful Jerry. "Stop in the name of the law!" The girl stopped, a troubled look in her eyes, and drew up to the side of the road. Jerry did likewise, and as he stepped from his machine he discovered that the girl was Betty.

"You're under arrest," he said gruffly. "I'll have to take you to the station."

Betty was staring at him rather wildly. "Why—why—it can't be Jerry!" she exclaimed.

"No matter who it is," he growled. "You're arrested for speeding and you're coming with me to the station."

"Yes, it is Jerry," the girl announced, amazed, but with evident relief. "I guess you must be joking. Where did you get those duds?"

"Never mind," he said pompously. "I'm an officer of the law and you're my prisoner."

"I guess not," she laughed. "This is too ridiculous for words. But I must be hurrying along, Jerry. I have for one's self honestly and not otherwise.

This thing of attempting to account for men is delusive. We cannot account for any man. The most commonplace man has about him something unaccountable. But in a world where the field is open and competition keen, not many men are able to secure and hold positions of prominence unless they deserve them.

When you see a man who has risen, rising by rung on the ladder of success, do not describe yourself with the notion that he had a balloon. If he had, the gas would have escaped some time ago. The chances are that he got there by climbing.

If you believe in the balloon theory, you are liable to waste valuable time looking for the gas bag, when you ought to be gripping the lower rungs of the ladder, and bearing your feet for the ascent.

There is some sham success, and some of it has an astonishingly long run of apparent reality; but in the end it shows itself to be just what it is. But the best thing for you to assume is that the man who has succeeded and who is still master of his success, earned it honestly.

Go and do thou likewise.

"And if I refuse—?" "Then it's all night in a cell," was Jerry's ultimatum.

Betty smiled. "Jerry, you've done it. You've made me do something in spite of myself. You forced me to accompany you to the police station, and now—and now—you're forcing me to marry you. And it's not so bad after all, because I've been loving you right along and was only trying to wake you up by what I said."

"Not much," he said, sternly. "It's the lookout for you."

He winked at the judge. The judge had some humor in his makeup and he seemed to sense the real situation.

"Not much," he said, sternly. "It's the lookout for you."

He winked at the judge. The judge had some humor in his makeup and he seemed to sense the real situation.

"Officer, look her up," he ordered. Jerry led her away, down a corridor lined with barred doors. He stopped at one.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—Are taxes to be lower or higher in Wisconsin the coming year? This is a question of immediate interest to every owner of property in the state, especially in view of the fact that the last legislature made big appropriations yet provided additional revenue to meet them in the case of the teachers' retirement fund. A small surtax on income provides the million dollars a year required by the retirement fund. You may put it down in your memorandum book that the tax levy of next year will be higher than that of this year. This is inevitable with the state growing steadily and the people through their legislature demanding improvements of all kinds, improvement of our educational system, improvement in the care of the criminal and defective classes, better sanitary conditions for children and for workmen. In view of this no intelligent person should be beguiled by the political orator into thinking that the burden of his taxes will be lightened. And after all our taxes are not our chief burden, and the conditions in our own state and country are so much superior to those existing in other countries that there should be no complaint here so long as public revenues are wisely and honestly spent. Dr. W. A. Scott of the department of economics at the university has just returned from an eight weeks' stay in England and France. In England he reports about 50 per cent of the average taxable income in taxes, and the purchasing power of what remains is reduced by about one-third. In France there are hundreds and thousands of tax delinquents and the authorities are unable to enforce the payment of a goodly percent of the tax levy. Wisconsin taxpayers have more reasons to be thankful than they have to complain.

The state department of markets after carefully sizing up the potato situation predict a big shortage and high prices. In Wisconsin, the commercial crop for this year is estimated at fifteen thousand car loads as against twenty-six thousand at this time a year ago.

The cabbage crop also is short this year according to the department of markets. The yield in Wisconsin this year will be about 75 thousand tons as compared with 165 thousand tons last year.

The persistent fight being waged in every community of the state by the prohibition officers recalls the fact that Wisconsin has since its creation as a state been a prohibition battle ground. In 1849 the Wisconsin bond law was enacted making vendors of liquor liable for all damages resulting from drinking it. This law was hard fought and was repealed by the legislature of 1851. In 1852 the legislature provided for a referendum on the liquor question and in 1853 the people of the state voted for state-wide prohibition by a good majority. A prohibition law was passed by the legislature in 1855 and was vetoed by Governor Burdett. In 1857 another bond law known as the Graham civil damage law was passed, making the sale of liquor liable for all damages caused, and making him support the families of drunkards. In 1874 this law was repealed.

Prof. John R. Commons of the University, discussing "unemployment" before the Madison Kiwanis club on October 3, said that the first difficulty in dealing with unemployment in this country is practical politics. There are three kinds of politics, he said, political politics, capitalist politics and labor politics. When the government opened public employment offices during the war, the labor unions thought they were entitled to the appointments, and it turned out that labor politicians got the jobs. No employer will continue to have unemployed persons sent to him by a labor politician, so congress killed most of the employment offices by withdrawing the appropriations. Now the capitalists are in control of the employment offices, and this means also the labor politicians, but a different kind who cater to capitalists instead of labor unions. This see-saw is to be expected. It is not worth while, said Prof. Commons, for President Harding's unemployment conference to recommend to congress the starting up again of the federal employment offices unless it shows congress how to keep them out of the hands of political politicians, capitalist and labor politicians.

"Diapepsin" for Bad Stomach, Indigestion

Take "Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into staphylococcus, head aches and nausea, you belch gases and acids and create undigested food—just take a little Diapepsin. Diapepsin is in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal diet without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antidote is Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at drug stores.

MOB INVADERS JAIL AT FORT WORTH IN SEARCH OF NEGRO

Black Accused of Robbing Camping Party Taken to Dallas for Safe Keeping

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Officers early Friday escorted a committee from a mob of several hundred persons through the county jail here in response to their demands that the jailer produce David Dunn, negro, who was indicted Thursday by the Tarrant county grand jury on a charge of robbery with firearms.

After satisfying themselves that the negro was not in jail, members of the committee joined the mob which then entered several automobiles and sped to the city jail, where a similar scene was enacted.

The negro, after robbing a party of campers at Lake Worth, a pleasure resort near here Tuesday night, is said to have attempted to attack a young woman member of the party.

The leader of the mob held a rope in his hand.

Taken to Dallas
DALLAS, Texas.—A large crowd of men which came here by motor car from Fort Worth early Friday morning for the announced purpose of lynching David Dunn, a negro, disabused shortly after their arrival. It was understood the members of the crowd had gone back to Fort Worth. No concerted effort was made to obtain Dunn, who was brought here for safe keeping.

On Oct. 4th, 1920
Just One Year Ago

Fields opened their 8th successful exclusive Ladies' and Misses' apparel shoppe in La Crosse.

During the past year of successful operation of our store in La Crosse we have at all times maintained one big principle, and that is VALUE GIVING. Through this method of good business we are working hard every day to become the leading Ladies' and Misses' apparel shoppe in La Crosse.

Our store is a firm believer in La Crosse and in its future. We believe that right now it is one of the best cities in the United States in which to live and do business.

We are confident that this city is going forward to a glowing destiny and in the not far future a great many splendid betterments, not yet even dreamed of, will also take place.

And, because we feel that this is a great little city, and deserving of the best possible, we are doing our utmost to keep pace with the times and are even going a little faster.

That's why we are always first with the latest things in women's and misses' wearing apparel. That's why our store is a twentieth century store, and that's why we deserve your patronage.

The year just past has been a successful one for Fields', and we are looking forward to many more successful years and many more friends and patrons. We realize that in order to maintain our friends, in order to increase our patrons and in order to be a successful store we must at all times be up-to-the-minute in new merchandising ideas to carry the newest creations of the minute and to give our customers super-service and show super-courtesy in all transactions. These things can always be depended on at FIELDS.

We are in a splendid position to offer super-values at all times, due to our combined purchasing power for our nine stores. Our New York office maintained exclusively by Fields, Inc., at 1140 Broadway, gives each store the advantage of showing the newest style creations of the minute, and therefore we have the newest and first showing of everything that is new in women's and misses' garments.

Many of our patrons have learned these facts and are satisfied when making a purchase at FIELDS that it must be right.

We are constantly out after more business, we are continually striving to increase our friends and patrons, and to those people of La Crosse and vicinity who have not been trading at FIELDS, we have a little message. Watch this paper for our announcement of our First Anniversary Sale (which will be in the very near future), and then come to our store, shop through our stocks and convince yourself of our assertions.

MAKING PHOTOPLAY OF "FOUR HORSEMEN" IS A GIGANTIC TASK

Actual Photography took Six Months to Complete; Same Time Taken to Build Sets

To the vast multitude of theatergoers who are witnessing the picture-making of Vicente Blasco Ibañez' immortal story, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production for Metro Pictures Corporation, as it is being flashed upon the screen in the leading cities of the country, its magnitude and costliness can be only partially appreciated. To the thousands who will see it here taking its week's engagement at the Riviera theater, beginning Sunday, and the following facts will be of interest.

In transferring this historical romance to the screen, from the pages of the world famous novel, whose 200 editions have thrilled more than 20,000,000 readers, Metro undertook an artistic task whose gigantic nature was apparent even before the opening scene was "shot." In making this million dollar photo-drama from the scenario adapted so faithfully from the written story by June Mathis, practically every known record of the motion picture industry was broken.

New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

les, three key cities representative of the middle and coastal sections of the country, immediately acclaimed "The Four Horsemen" as the greatest of cinema productions, rivaling in dramatic power and intensity the best offering of the speaking stage. The popular verdict of these three widely separated cities is being just as emphatically endorsed by other great municipalities where it is being presented.

The characters of the story work out their destinies on two hemispheres. From Argentina, with its far-flung ranges, to the capitals of Europe, the heroes and heroines of this master work of fiction are faithfully portrayed upon the screen as the story works out its tense human drama against the final background of a world in arms.

But even the unprecedented expense of a million dollars in production costs has been dwarfed to insignificance by the physical magnitude of the undertaking that made the screen version of "The Four Horsemen of The Apocalypse" a possibility. Statistics compiled at the Metro studios indicate that the production, in fact by all known standards of picture making, is the most gigantic photo spectacle in the history of the silent drama.

The actual photography of Ibañez' epochal novel, took more than six months to complete, following an equal period of time consumed in building the tremendous settings assembling the great cast of principals and extras, and drilling the thousands of men portraying the armies, gathering costumes, works of art, searching historical records to make possible a faithful presentation, and the thousand and one other details which form part of such an unprecedented undertaking.

UNLAWFUL SALE IS REQUIRED TO GET A SEARCH WARRANT

Judge Luse Makes Important Ruling in Federal Court at Madison

On the ground that the complaint on which a search warrant was based contained no evidence that an unlawful sale of liquor had taken place, Judge Claude Z. Luse quashed the indictment against George Heller, Morris, in federal court at Madison.

"Under the Mullerberg act," said the judge, "it is essential that the complaint for a search warrant must set forth a sale. The complaint here says nothing about unlawful sale, and the warrant is invalid."

While granting the petition of the defendant for the suppression of liquor seized as evidence, the judge refused to permit the return of 18 gallons of moonshine and ordered its destruction. Attorney Catharine and McGraw, counsel for the defendant, then moved the quashing of the indictment, as the evidence on which it had been obtained was suppressed. The judge granted the motion.

Willard T. Saenger, justice of the peace at Monroe, who issued the warrant, and George Hertz, group chief of federal prohibition agents in western Wisconsin, to whom it was granted, both testified that no facts in regard to unlawful sale had been stated before the warrant was issued. According to the federal prohibition act, no search warrant can be issued except on evidence of sale.

CHICAGO, Ill.—A week man with downcast eyes standing beside Mrs. Joseph Yenofsky was sentenced to jail Thursday by Judge Jacobus in municipal court after Mrs. Yenofsky had told the court how her husband had beaten her unmercifully. It was said after sentence had been passed and he had been subjected to a severe lecture that he was a man, Frank Kolbe, with Mrs. Yenofsky's aid, convinced the court that he was not her husband but was appearing in connection with another case. The court's order was withdrawn.

OGDEN INVINCIBLE AS COLONELS LOSE SECOND GAME, 2-1

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—With Jack Ogden, premier hurler of the International League, pitching a masterly game, Baltimore evaded up the series with Louisville, champions of the American Association, in the second game of the junior world's series on Thursday, 2 to 1.

Ogden, who equaled the International League record by winning thirty-two games this season, was supported by Lou Fletcher, the Indian pitcher, who went through the American Association season without a defeat. Ogden made a bad start, giving the first two runs in the first inning, and the bases were filled when Kasey was safe on Mueller's error. He frightened up, however, and was not in a case again until the fourth, when the Colonels connected with two hits, but sharp fielding prevented scoring.

"U. W." PROFESSOR GOES OVER TO BIRTH CONTROL ADVOCATES

MADISON, Wis.—Population in the United States is increasing rapidly, due to reduction in the death rates rather than through an increase in birth rates, E. A. Ross, professor of sociology at the University of Wisconsin, said, speaking Thursday night before the students' social science club.

Professor Ross urged birth control saying that "twenty years ago, when I coined that grossly misused phrase race suicide, I believed in large families; today with changed conditions and years of deeper study of the subject, I have changed my mind."

He said that child labor laws, advances in medical science, and paternalistic legislation have given the white race a longevity unequalled through the ages. Neither the present nor future generations would benefit by an increased birth rate, because professor Ross said, increased birth rate is accompanied without exception by an increased death rate.

GIANTS OUT TO WIN BEHIND FRED TONEY IN THIRD CONTEST

Though Held Scoreless by Mays and Hoyt, Nationals Have Not Given up

NEW YORK.—Behind their third pitching ace, Fred Toney, who bails from the hills of Tennessee, John McGraw's Giants will attempt Friday to settle the bet in which the Yankees have charged two knots towards world's series triumph.

Though held scoreless through two games, eighteen innings of nerve-racking baseball by the great twirling pair of the Americans—Mays and Hoyt—McGraw's heroes have by no means given up hope. As exemplified in their regular season games, they fight to the last ditch and they are determined to throw off the jinx that has dimmed their batting eyes.

Must Take Chances

The Giants have been following the safe and sane idea in the first two games of the series, but they will be out to try the sensational Friday. "We've got to take some chances," declared Assistant Manager Hughes Jennings. "We took them during the regular season and turned many a defeat into victory. Against such pitching as we have faced thus far there is no other alternative. We've got some ideas along that line and maybe they'll deliver our boys a hit."

Bob Shawkey, whose queer, clod-hopping walk and red flannel undershorts have been seen in other world's series, is most likely to be on the mound Friday for the Yankees.

Shawkey has great speed. When he is in form he is regarded as one of the finest twirlers in either league, ranking along with Alexander, Faber, Shocker, Adams, Mays, Hoyt, Toney, and Nell.

The Giants will be the home club Friday and will switch back to their navy blue uniforms while the Yankees will wear their distinctive gray and sit in the bleachers dugout.

All Hoyt Thursday

Thursday's game was all Hoyt, his curve, slow ball and fast breaking drop ball. He pitched from Brooklyn borough let the Giants down with two hits—one of the greatest pitching feats in the history of the game. Hoyt occupied the second sack until the ninth inning and that Giant happened to be Frank Pishen, who got the only clean blow of the game off Hoyt, a snapper to right. The other hit was garnered by Hawlings.

Ruth aroused the spectators in the sixth when after drawing a pass, he stole second and on the next ball dashed for third beating Smith's throw. Pishen, McGraw's steal of home in the eighth was executed after the manner of Mike McNally's theft in the first game.

Probable Lineup

Artie Nehf pitched excellently for the Giants, allowing only three hits, but he was wild, issuing many passes. The probable batting order for today's series history: New York: (1) Gehrig, (2) Ruth, (3) Cobb, (4) Pishen, (5) Ward, (6) McNally, (7) Schaub, (8) Shawkey, (9) Pishen, (10) Pishen, (11) Pishen, (12) ## SUPERIOR PROTESTS STATE'S VALUATION OF ELECTRIC PLANT

Property to be Purchased by the City Valuer at Six Hundred Thousand

MADISON, Wis.—The city of Superior has entered an action in the Dane county circuit court, appealing from the decision of the railroad commission which establishes the value of property belonging to the Superior Light, Heat and Power company, which the city is to purchase. The commission determined the valuation at approximately $600,000 in an order issued several weeks ago.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway company is ordered to refund $74.68 to the Eau Claire Paving company, by the railroad commission. This is the difference in freight rates between the amount arrived at by using the rate of two cents per pound plus war tax, and the amount charged by the railroad.

Authority was given the Alliance Telephone company to increase and adjust its rates at the Lamson switchboard, the new rate being $7 a year. The city of Ercy is given authority to continue its electric rates.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have ringing, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting tired of hearing and fear that deafness is going to your drugist and get 1 ounce of "California Fig Syrup" and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has suffered from ringing of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

granted as an emergency measure, March 20, 1918.

Telephone rates at Roaduel Shawano county, were increased $1 per month, and authorization was granted the Theresa Union Telephone company, Fond du Lac, to extend service lines to Lumbra, Dodge county, and to Ashford and Eden, Fond du Lac county. The Fond du Lac Rural Telephone company had objected to such extension on the grounds of paralyzing their system.

WASHINGTON.—Laurits S. Swenson of Minnesota was nominated by President Harding to be minister to Norway.

MOTHER! PREVENT SICK CHILD WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

GOVERNMENT NETS STOLEN ON ISLAND NORTH OF WINONA

Seines Used by Fish Rescue Crews Taken After Placed in a Pond

Three seine nets, attached to each other, giving a total length of approximately 225 feet, together with 150 feet of new pulling line, were stolen from the government fish rescue workers on Winona Island, near Prairie Island.

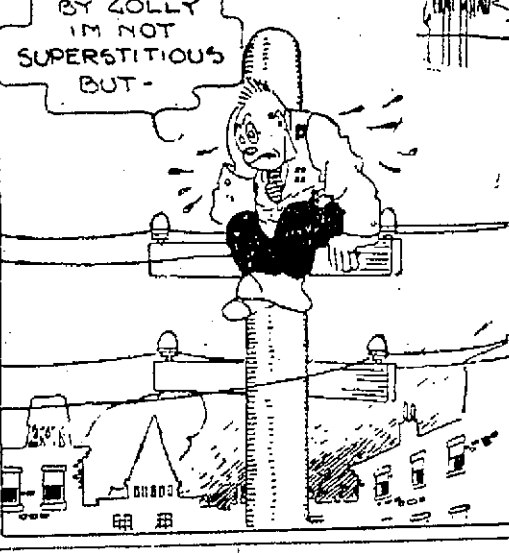

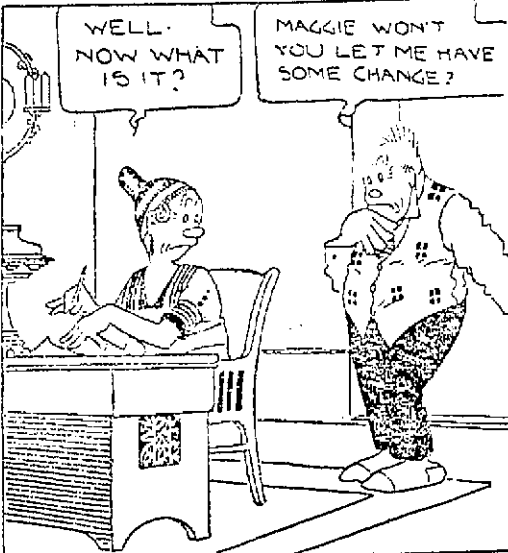

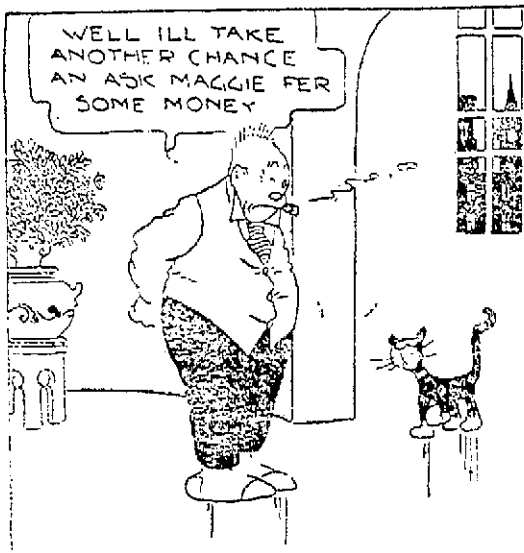

The nets had been stretched out as its customary near the land-locked pond where the fish were to be seized and in the morning were found missing when the crew arrived at the island to go to work.

The nets are property of the Bureau of Fisheries of the United States government.

The rescue crew arrived at the island at night, and made all of the usual preparations for the work which was to be done the next day. When the nets had been stretched out and the tubs and lines put in place, the men left with everything ready for a "pull" of fish in the morning.

The thieves did nothing with the tubs or the old lines that were lying about, taking the nets and the new line only. Two weeks ago, two nets, with a total length of about 175 feet, were stolen in the same vicinity.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

William Fellowes Morgan, President of the Merchants' Association of New York, Tells.

BY WILLIAM FELLOWES MORGAN, President, The Merchants' Association of New York

There are two main causes, in my opinion, for the prevailing business stagnation.

The first and most important is the readjustment incident to a return to normal conditions. During the war the entire economic structure was disarranged. In many instances the government took control of existing agencies, such as the railroads and shipping, and introduced innovations with respect to management and wages which, while doubtless necessary at the time, are unsuited to peace conditions.

All our energies were bent toward the production necessary to winning the war, and prices rose to abnormal levels. Now that the stimulus of protecting our national life has been withdrawn, the law of supply and demand again prevails and deflation is in process.

Demand Shrinkage

The shrinkage of demand curtails production and creates a situation which is equally hard for employer and employee, causing strikes and unrest.

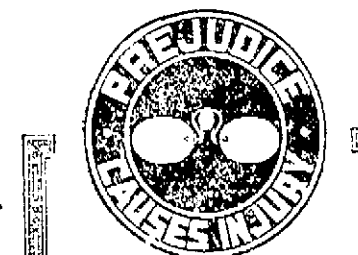

The second is the great difficulty in finding markets abroad for our produce. It would be very helpful if we had such an outlet for our industry, but the other nations of the world are going through an even severer course of readjustment than we are and, furthermore, since practically all of them owe us enormous debts, the rate of exchange is so heavily in

In fact, for some time the volume of retail sales has been large, in spite of current unemployment. Merchandise stocks have been considerably depleted and the demand for manufactured goods shows promise of improvement. Figures from savings banks indicate little impairment of the buying power of the public.

How long it will be before "good times" actually return, no one can say. The periods of depression in 1902-3, 1907-8, 1914-15, were in each case of about 18 months' duration. Business has now been dull for more than a year, although the worst conditions have prevailed for only about six months.

But Little Affected

It is encouraging to remember, however, that even at the point of greatest depression the total volume of the nation's business is after all but little affected. The most radical fluctuations do not carry the prosperity curve more than 15 to 20 per cent above or below, the normal standard when fairly good times prevail.

Although we have been at a comparatively low point for some time, the country is still doing more than 80 per cent of its normal business.

LOS ANGELES.—Search throughout the Pacific has been instituted for the private motorboat Speejaaks with a party including Capt. and Mrs. Albert Gower of New York on board. A wrecked motor yacht was sighted

AT THE THEATERS TODAY
Rivoli—Thomas Meighan in "The City of Silent Men"; Larry Semon in "The Rent Collector"; Gladys Walton in "The Rowdy"; two new acts of vaudeville; Sema Polard in "You're Next".
Majestic—Gladys Walton in "The Rowdy"; two new acts of vaudeville; Sema Polard in "You're Next".
Rivoli—Tom Mix in "Way Down East"; comedy, "Who's Who"; Ethel May Barker, premier violinist; Riviera orchestra.
Casino—J. Warren Kerrigan in "The House of Whispers"; Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck"; Monte Blue and Mary Thurston in "A Broken Bell"; Harold Lloyd in "Get Out and Get Under"; Fox Novels.

THOMAS MEIGHAN—RIVOLI
 The famous bridge of Sigmund in the Tomb of New York, the interior of Sing Sing, world famous prison—these are admirably shown in Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture, "The City of Silent Men," which is being shown at the Rivoli theater with success. This is a remarkable photograph of prison life based on John A. Morasso's novel, "The Quarry." Mr. Meighan has the role of a country mechanic who goes to the big city to obtain work and who falls into the clutches of crooks for whose crime he is sent to state's prison for a long period. He escapes in a sensational way and begins life anew in the west. There are many thrills in the action which is rapid-fire. The leading woman is Lois Wilson and her work, as well as that of the supporting players, is excellent.

GLADYS WALTON—MAJESTIC
 She wasn't an actress and goddess and she was not to be. Gladys Walton, playing in "The Rowdy" at the Majestic, has a story that takes this unique and original turn. Lots of folks day-dream about how it would feel suddenly to come into wealth and social position, and in this picture the little girl doesn't have all this happen to her, but it's an awful bore. One has to be so good, so decorous, and so restrained. It's a relief to find out that there has been a mistake, that one isn't really rich and socially prominent, and can go back to the old life on the water-front, to the real man who can care for one even if he doesn't dress like a fashion plate, and to the kindly foster-parents who found one a lost waif and took her in.

Along with "The Rowdy" there's two acts of vaudeville and a Sema Polard comedy, "You're Next."

"WAY DOWN EAST"—LA CROSSE
 D. W. Griffith's new act, a wonderful picture spectacle, "Way Down East," is to be seen next week at the La Crosse theater, commencing its special run here Sunday and continuing for a week.
 Taken from the Little Blarney Park play of the same title it is the sensation of the current theatrical year. Nothing like it has ever been dreamed of in the theater before and its record is the most astonishing thing of the kind known to date.
 The simple tale of the original play

with its pastoral background, its plain people and its quaint humors has been changed upon to such an extent that not only a new drama has been woven about the love story of Anna Moore and David Bartlett but a new form of art in which to express the theme is evolved.
 Murmurs of delight greet its scenes of exquisite beauty. In a pictorial sense, heavily laughter accompanied by the foolish antics and the simple story of its following characters and a soul stirring interest rushes with its unfolding to a climax. The life of which was never known on any stage, in the world until Griffith broke loose with his blinding screen and ice jam, of "Way Down East" and has aroused so much comment that it is being re-run in every city where it is being presented.

One of the greatest casts ever known on stage or screen is shown in the picture and the action is accompanied by a special orchestra and score that adds charm and intensity to a story of singular appeal and power.

TOM MIX—RIVIERA

In a play that took more than two months to film, Tom Mix, famous detective of heavy western characters, will open today at the Riviera. "Hanks Off" is a thrilling western drama by William McLeod Laine and produced by William Fox. Mix has the role of a Texas ranger, and from all accounts he has enough to do in the swift action to keep two or three ordinary stars busy. What with fights, mob scenes, attempted lynchings and bank robberies, to say nothing of frequent gun play and hard riding, as well as a stampede of wild horses, Mix manages to keep fairly cool. Pauline Curley, a beautiful girl of sixteen, is Mix's new leading woman. Others in the cast are old favorites, such as Charles K. French, Or "Canny Mike" the make-up king, Lloyd Bacon, Frank Clark, Sid Jordan, William McCormick, Virginia Warwick, J. Webster Dill and Marvin Loback. The comedy, "Who's Who"; Ethel May Barker, violinist, and the Riviera orchestra complete the bill.

MONTE BLUE AND HAROLD LLOYD AT THE STRAND
 Mary Thurston is remembered by all lovers of feminine beauty as one of the loveliest figures in the group of Mack Sennett bathing beauties. It is not surprising that she was lured from the fold in short time to adorn the drama. It was Allan Dwan who induced her to try serious roles and her success was instantaneous. She has graced four Allan Dwan productions to date, the latest one being "A Broken Bell," which plays at the Strand today and Saturday. Monte Blue is the leading man. Harold Lloyd in his comedy, "Get Out and Get Under," shares headline honors on the same program.

J. WARREN KERRIGAN—CASINO
 Alfred T. Lennan, famous Scotland Yard inspector and accredited captor of Hop Toay and his notorious gang of London white slavers two years ago after attending a private showing of "The House of Whispers" to be shown at the Casino today and Saturday, issued the following statement: "There have been mystery plays and mystery plays, but this photograph and drama is the most baffling and enterprising exposition of criminal craft I have ever witnessed. The average mystery play is ludicrous, without plausibility—an insult to human intelligence. You may enter a picture house almost any day and see a green-eyed, alleged master criminal, battle an entire metropolitan police force by using ultra-violet-rays to kill off his enemies. Or perhaps 'Shifty Louis' will create international consternation by opening bank vaults with wireless favorites, such as Charles K. French, Or "Canny Mike" the make-up king, will kidnap the nation's secret-service chief, disguise himself as his captive and proceed to disrupt the service from the Federal building in Washington.

 "Such themes may constitute mystery, but they are impossible and tiresome. If every crook and detective film contained the logic and mathematical reason indicated in 'The House of Whispers,' the public would demand that this high standard be kept up."

The story of "The House of Whispers," starring Warren Kerrigan, revolves upon the plan of an architect to rob the tenants of the huge apartment house in which he lives by means of an intricate secret stairway.

Proves Wisdom of Hesiod
 The many prove the wisdom of Hesiod, who says that the road to wickedness is smooth and very short, and there is no need of perishing; but before virtue the immortal gods have placed the sweat of labor, and long and steep is the way thither, and rugged at first; but when you have reached the top, then, however difficult, it becomes easy.—Plato.

NEW YORK—Spanish-American war records of the war department were cited in court to prove the signature of Theodore Roosevelt on a $50,000 note held by Mrs. Emma R. Barkett of Hillsdale, Ind., was not genuine.

LONDON—In official circles it was stated that the magnanimous situation in England was given more attention than either the Irish problem or the Washington conference on limitation of armaments.

China has decided to establish its head mint at Shanghai.

THIN, FADED HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE" TO THICKEN IT

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping your hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.
 Girls! Girls! Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin, scraggy. A single application of delightful Danderine will double the beauty and radiance of your hair and make it look twice as abundant.

MERT MIDGETT ARRIVES IN NEW YORK WEDNESDAY

A telegram received here Thursday from Mert Midgett, colored porter at the Webb barber shop sent to the world series as the "La Crosse delegate" by local business men, read to the effect that he had arrived in New York at 11 O. K. but too late for the opening game.

Midgett declared that he would "be on deck for the game tomorrow." Wires were sent from La Crosse to Managers Huggins and McGraw telling of the arrival of the "La Crosse delegate" with instructions that he be given a reserved seat.

Patrons of the shop will no doubt hear all about the series when Midgett gets back.

Patatoes are selling for 60 cents a bushel in Copenhagen.

HOYER MURDERS REMAIN MYSTERY

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The Hoyer murders remain a mystery. A coroner's jury Friday found that Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Hoyer came to their death by revolver shots fired with wilful and murderous intent by four unknown assailants. This marked the close of a sensational inquest into the double murder at Port Washington farm-house.

Charges and counter-charges and promises of speedy arrest followed the murder and the exhumation of the bodies.

RACINE VETERAN DEAD
RACINE, Wis.—Hiram J. Smith, a soldier of the civil war, former postmaster, businessman and widely known in southern Wisconsin, died early Friday at his summer home at Brown's Lake.
 In Grand Army circles Mr. Smith was a prominent figure, serving as a member of the executive committee of the national council of administration, acting as senior vice commander of the department of Wisconsin, and on numerous occasions being named as state delegate to the national encampments. During the civil war he was a member of Company I, Thirty-ninth Wisconsin volunteers. Mr. Smith came to Racine in 1865.

THOMPSON FARM MAY BE MADE U. S. VOCATION SCHOOL

Buildings Made Famous by Austin "Financial Wizard" Called Ideal for Veterans

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Utilization of the Oakdale farm made famous by the financial exploits of R. A. (Cyril) Thompson, now serving a term in the penitentiary at Stillwater for defalcations from George H. Hormel and Co., Austin bankers, is under consideration by the federal government for rehabilitation of disabled service men.

C. D. Hubbard, director of the veterans bureau for this district, said in Minneapolis.

Authorities in Washington, he said, are expected to make a decision regarding a survey of the farms at Lacey and Blooming Prairie within a few days.

The bulk of the defalcations, aggregating $1,187,000 from the Hormel company, were used in establishing the Lacey chicken farm and the Blooming Prairie cattle farm, Thompson said. He had been employed as assistant controller for the Austin packing firm. The farms are equipped with modern appliances and the buildings are considered the best in farm construction.

A recommendation was sent to Washington six weeks ago, suggesting that an agricultural expert be sent to the farms to make a survey. Mr. Hubbard said. Although no reply has been received, he said he believed the government's decision will be forthcoming within a few days.

Should the farms be taken over by the bureau, Mr. Hubbard said, 150 men will be sent to the poultry farm and about 200 to the stock farm. Buildings on the Lacey farm are ideal for accommodations of disabled men. It also is equipped with a large dormitory, now used as a hotel, a baseball field, dancehall, and playground. The Blooming Prairie farm also has a dormitory.

The government has heretofore leased properties for use by former service men," Mr. Hubbard said. "If the government decides to take over these farms, they probably will be purchased."

The Thompson properties were taken over by a trusteeship for the benefit of creditors when the defalcations were discovered.

La Crosse Folks at University

The past two weeks has been filled with many social events and considerable real school work. Many are finding it hard to get into the swing. The exams in advanced algebra last Tuesday were passed by all La Crosse students who were required to take them. This examination was held as required for entrance into the next course in mathematics.

The varsity welcome mixer held in the gym last week was well attended. The agricultural students and the economic students held a joint mixer in Lathrop hall last Saturday which was also well attended.

Plenies and club hikes are in order now and while the weather remains nice there will be many of these affairs. All students living in the district known as the heights are invited to participate in a hobo hike with the Outing club. The University Methodist students enjoyed a hike to Plenie Point, where various games were played and a delightful picnic lunch was served.

The Episcopal Students' society, known as St. Francis society, held its first meeting Wednesday night in the New club house. Plans were then laid for a freshman reception on October 15.

The Congregational students enjoyed a social evening at the home of Rev. Scales, the student pastor, last Tuesday evening. These Tuesday evening socials are to be regular affairs. Each time a limited group is invited.

The Lutheran Memorial Students' cabinet has a fine program prepared for their welcome on Saturday, October 8. Several La Crosse people are on the various committees. Among these George and Walter Baum and Trygve Gunderson, Marion Nepora, a former Normal school student, has charge of arrangements.

The inter-fraternity bowling contest began last Tuesday evening when the Theta Xi's beat the Beta's. The Chi Phi's defeated the Delta's. The T. K. E.'s defeated the Triangle and the Theta Delta's defeated the A. T. C.

The homecoming game and all activities that go with it are pretty much the biggest thing being planned for the future. The stadium has been enlarged so that by the time of the homecoming game there will be seats to accommodate at least 25,000. The department of physical education is planning to build a section each year to accommodate an additional four thousand and to pay for it out of the gate receipts so that no call on alumni support will have to be made. The homecoming mixer will be held in Lathrop hall and all organizations are keeping the date (October 29) open for this affair.

The Wisconsin Badger, the official year book of the graduating class, is getting under way. Craft has been made for pictures of the seniors and the campaign for subscriptions is to begin soon. This year's book promises many new features and not the least important is the lowering of the price. The price for this year's book will be $4, a reduction of $1 over last year.

The all-varsity tennis tournament started this week. Among the winners of the first matches is Pauline Pamperin, who won two sets from her opponent, P. L. Kildow.

The Phi Delta Phi sorority announces the wedding of Anne Esch, Alpha Phi of June Baldwin and the Chi Omega of Geneva Skarr.

Louis Probst is engaged in spare hours as assistant in the boys' department at the city Y. M. C. A.

Ralph Inman of Dair, formerly a student at La Crosse Normal and now senior law student, was engaged as assistant to the district attorney, Ted Lewis, in the appeal of John A. "Dogskin" Johnson for pardon from Wau-pun.

Lieutenant Colonel Paul Clemens of Superior, well known Thirty-second division staff officer, is enrolled in the college of letters and science majoring in education. He has for many years been connected with the public schools of Superior.

David Moore of Onalaska, who has been associated with Peter Burns in a haberdashery business on State street, has gone to Chicago, Ill., where he will open up another store for Mr. Burns. Their business is exclusively with the student trade.

NATION'S BANKERS SEE INCOMING TIDE OF BETTER TIMES

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Broad in its optimism and saturated with predictions that the golden crest of prosperity is slowly but with certainty approaching the United States on an incoming tide of better times, the forty-seventh annual convention of the American Bankers' association entered upon its final session Friday.

Four important reports and two speeches were upon the final program which marked its close by installation of officers. Most important among the reports was that of resolutions committee, embodying suggestions from the executive council as well as from the six divisions of the association.

They are people you will never forget: the principal characters in the Rex Ingram production of the masterpiece of Vicente Blasco Ibanez's novels—

MRS. E. L. SPICER PLEASING HOSTESS AT COFFEE FRIDAY

MRS. E. L. SPICER was a delightful hostess at her home, 111 North Fourteenth street, at afternoon coffee on Friday. The rooms were made attractive with gay colored flowers and the luncheon table was handsomely appointed and was also enhanced by bouquets. Places were laid for twenty-eight. Miss Jennie Smith and Miss Alice Fryer assisted in serving.

MR. AND MRS. N. L. Meir, 502 South Fifth street, entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. Meir's sister, Mrs. C. S. Weidner, and Mrs. Emma Kalbe of Chicago. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meir, 1420 Madison street, gave a farewell dinner in honor of Mr. Meir's sister, Mrs. C. Weidner, and Mrs. Emma Kalbe of Chicago. On Thursday Mrs. N. L. Meir and her guests moved to Winona for luncheon. Mrs. Weidner and Mrs. Kalbe left Thursday morning to motor to their home at Chicago, accompanied by Mrs. N. L. Meir and Mrs. Emil Olson.

MISS IRENE SCHMIDT was pleasantly surprised at her home, 1226 Denton street, Thursday evening by a group of school mates from the Holy Trinity high school. The evening which was delightful, was spent in dancing and games. An appetizing luncheon was served at half past ten. Those present were the Misses Dorothy Justin, Theresa Hammes, Virginia, Lelonne and Amelia Kuhn, Irene Martin, Clara Thill, Clara Miller, Evelyn Girard, Eleanor Andre and Susie Dondelinger.

THE WOMEN of the First Methodist church were most delightfully entertained Thursday afternoon with a half hour's musical story told by Mr. William Collinge through Victrola records. Not only was a brief interesting sketch of the composer or singer given, but the numbers were so arranged that you could picture the lad from the time his mother sang him her sweet lullabies through childhood, youth and manhood. Two of the selections, "Whispering Hope," sung by Alma Gluck and Louise Homer, and "Mother and Madeline," by the McKee trio, were very familiar—the others, none the less beautiful though, were newer. The story was finished by the Angel's Serenade sung by McCormick, accompanied by Kautzler.

MRS. W. L. ANDREWS, 1017 South Tenth street, entertained a party of relatives and also the clerk of the Spurgeon Mercantile Co., Tuesday evening in honor of the birthday of sister, Mrs. H. C. Olson. The honor guest received many pretty gifts.

MRS. J. B. BLOW, 2410 South Thirtieth street, announced the marriage of her daughter, Emma, to Mr. Albert Schaefer of Woodstock, Ill., which took place Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, October 4, at Woodstock. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Louise Mueller, and Mr. Paul Schaefer, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer left for La Crosse and upon their arrival were conducted to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gauthier, 121 West Avenue North, where a reception was held in their honor. The rooms were prettily decorated with garlands and bouquets of roses. A bridal supper was served at seven o'clock, followed by vocal and instrumental music. The bride was presented with silverware. Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer remain in Woodstock where Mr. Schaefer is employed by the Oliver Typewriter Company.

BRADFORD Dixon, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Dixon, left Thursday afternoon for Manitowish, Wis., where he will enter the employ of the Stout Lumber Company.

MR. and Mrs. Otto Hallberg of Decorah, Ia., and Mrs. Ralph Rommel of Denver, Col., motored to La Crosse and have been guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wood, 920 Cass street, and Mrs. E. E. Wood, 1219 Market street.

MR. and Mrs. Otto Leifer returned from their week-end trip from their delightful tour of Yellowstone Park and on to the Pacific coast, where they visited large cities of California and other points. They were gone about ten weeks.

A DELICIOUS SUPPER was given Mrs. Lillian Downs Thursday afternoon at her home, 382 Avon street, in compliment to her birthday. She was

OIL LIGHT BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the United States government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, C. L. Johnson, 609 W. Lake street, Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. —Adv.

GOVERNOR BLAINE CALLS ATTENTION TO MARKETS SHOW

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine Friday appealed to the people of the state to give their earnest attention to the Wisconsin Markets exposition to be held in Milwaukee, December 7-10, under direction of the state department of markets.

The statement of Governor Blaine points out that the Wisconsin farmers' organizations, the college of agriculture, the state department of agriculture, manufacturers of farm products and supplies and other commercial interests concerned in the development of a more efficient system of marketing have requested the department of markets to organize the exposition.

Purpose of the exposition are outlined by Governor Blaine who points first to the desire to acquaint the people of the state and the country in general with the benefit to be derived from established grades and quality brands of Wisconsin farm products.

The exposition will also exhibit samples of Wisconsin graded and branded farm products representing car shipments, and will advertise Wisconsin farm products and manufactured farm supplies in the markets of the country.

Further, he says it will secure more desirable relations between producers, shippers and consumers of farm products and manufactured supplies to the ultimate end of more efficient marketing.

AMERICAN SAILORS SEE BULL FIGHT IN PORTUGUESE CAPITAL

Event Merely Display of Good Horsemanship and Skillful Feints! No Bloodshed

LISBON.—Sailors of the American warships who were entertained in this city when the American squadron visited Portugal, the other day, saw a Portuguese bullfight and lustily cheered for one of the bulls.

A Portuguese bullfight is more a display of splendid horsemanship and skillful feints than a cruel sport, such as the Spanish bullfight. There is no bloodshed. The bulls are merely taunted by the bullfighters and others who pierce his hide with their revolving staves. The horns of the bulls are covered with leather so that they can do no great damage and the proof of the skill of the horseman is never to allow his horse to be touched by them. He makes his horse curve around the furious animal, occasionally placing his "toreros" in his bull's necks.

After that a group of peasants wearing green and red caps, advance into the ring and each in turn tries to throw himself on the bull, either between his horn or on his neck, and to elude on these despite the frantic attempt of the animal to rid himself.

If one succeeds in clinging on all the other peasants rush up and hang onto the bull until he is reduced to impotence.

The American boys cheered all this with great enthusiasm but the real outbreak came when one bull leaped after one of his tormentors over a wooden partition and into a group of bull fighters, scattering them right and left.

Roars of laughter filled the enormous circus and a thundering cheer and cries of "bull, bull, bull" burst from the throats of the Americans.

The bullfighters suddenly forgot their elegant attitudes and studied poses and fled in wild disorder while the amphitheater resounded with the laughter and cheers of the Americans.

Bran Will Free Your Entire Family from Constipation!

EIGHT MILLION PEOPLE were admitted to the hospitals of America last year. Nine-tenths of the sickness can be traced to constipation! If every man, woman and child would eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, each day, nine-tenths of all sickness would be eliminated! Do you realize, then, what Kellogg's Bran will mean to every member of your family?

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is not a "remedy." It is nature's health food. Bran acts as a sweeper, at the same time cleansing and purifying without irritation or discomfort! Results are astounding!

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it corrects constipation as a food —not as a "remedy." Your physician will tell you that the desirable way to relieve constipation is through food. We guarantee Kellogg's Bran will relieve constipation permanently

if it is eaten regularly!

When Kellogg's Bran is eaten regularly it will also clear up a pimply complexion and sweeten the breath.
And, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is deliciously good! Kellogg's has an appetizing nut-like flavor, is crisp and adds zest to any food with which it is eaten. Or, it's just fine to eat as a cereal. Or, stirple it over your favorite cereal! Kellogg's Bran is used in muffins, cake, biscuits, macaroons, pancakes and in a hundred other palatable-tasting ways
—and all the time building health!

Start the children eating Kellogg's Bran. It will actually increase their growth and build up strong bodies.

But Kellogg's Bran to work for your family tomorrow morning!
